About the Authors

Leslie Perez graduated from Cal State LA in 2022 with her B.A. in History and Teacher Preparation. In 2022, she received the Monica Taylor Award from the History Department. She is currently working with LAUSD full-time and is a first-year graduate student at Cal State LA pursuing her single-subject teaching credential in History/Social Sciences and an M.A. in Foundations of Education. In her spare time, Leslie enjoys record shopping, attending concerts, and traveling with her partner. In the near future, she sees herself teaching history and remaining committed to education. She would like to acknowledge her professors, Dr. Birte Pfleger, Dr. Camille Suárez, and Dr. Jennifer Curren, who supported and recognized her potential during her History undergraduate career.

Cole Costello is an M.A. student in History, graduating in Spring 2023. Cole's research interests are the intersections of race, labor, and ethnicity in the American West of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Prior to graduate studies, he earned his B.A. at the University of Oregon in 2016, majoring in General Social Sciences and minoring in History. Some of his passions outside of academia include urban hiking, music (favorite styles include sludge metal, psychedelic rock, and post-hardcore punk), antiquing, and succulent gardening. After completing his M.A., Cole hopes to continue in academia and live a life teaching/assisting others in research.

Esmeralda Del Rio is a second-year graduate student at Cal State LA. She received her undergraduate degree in History and English Literature at the University of Southern California. Her research interests include the history of Mexico in the eighteenth century, California history, transnational history, and environmental history. She developed and continues to manage the Cal State LA website for "Growing Food in the City," and is a part of the Historical Climate Adaptive Database for the City of Los Angeles. In her free time, she loves reading Jane Austen novels and spending time with her cat, Penny.

Jose Pascual received his Masters Degree in History at Cal State LA in 2022. During his graduate studies he was an Editor for Perspectives Vol. 46, and focused on European imperialism in Southeast Asia during the 16th and 17th centuries. At thirteen years old, Jose moved to the United States from the Philippines, and went on to graduate from Cal State Dominguez Hills. He is currently working at the Norton Simon Museum in Pasadena, CA. Outside of academia, he likes hiking, traveling to different countries, visiting museums, and learning new languages.

Dominic Sheehan is a second-year graduate student at Cal State LA. He is pursuing an M.A. in History. His fields of interest are eleventh-, twelfth-, and thirteenth-century knighthood, chivalry, and Crusades. He is also the President of the Phi Alpha Theta - Eta Xi Chapter at Cal State LA. When he is not studying, he enjoys spending his free time with his beautiful fiancée, Ngozi Egeonu. Without her love and support, he would not be able to live out his dreams. In addition to school and his fiancée, his other passion is basketball. He plays on a semi-professional basketball team.
